GOVERNMENT HOUSE.

His Excellency the Governor and Lady Peel gave a most enjoyable Ball at Government House on Thursday. On entering through the Lodge gates a fairy-like garden presented itself. Coloured lamps were festooned over wires along the drive. Inside the Ball-room and lounge were decorated in red, chiefly poinsettias.

Lady Peel was looking charming in a white satin dress. Lady Dyer was also present looking very smart. Lady Southorn wore dull red velvet. Mrs. Borrett looking very nice in crushed strawberry georgette. Mrs. Phillips, the wife of H.M. Consul in Canton, was looking very well after her trip home, she wore pink satin embroidered with beads, while her daughter looked very smart in flowered chiffon with a blue sash. We hope she will enjoy her stay in the East.

Mrs. Turner looked very lovely in brown taffeta with an attractive little cape, while the two fair girls Betty in black velvet and Beryl in brown lace were thoroughly enjoying themselves as usual. Lady Furnell wore pink satin studded with diamonds. Mrs. Hegarty in black lace. Mrs. McGowan in black and white lace with small puffed sleeves. Mrs. Tinson in blue satin. Mrs. MacAvoy who is much better after her recent accident looked very nice in white georgette with diamonds embroidery. Miss Compton looked as beautiful as ever, she wore a smart velvet gown. Mrs. Kemble also wore black velvet with a white feather boa attractively thrown over one shoulder. Mrs. Robin Gordon was very smart in oyster satin cut very low in the back and trimmed with silver beads. Mrs. Ralke figured satin. Mrs. Sheldon beige trimmed with brown velvet. The attractive Mrs. Poland wore a white beaded dress. Mrs. Bonzo Bonfield wore white satin trimmed with red velvet. Mrs. Hull grey satin. Mrs. Tam Pearce wore a very becoming rose gown. Mrs. Redmond black and red satin. Young Mrs. Kemble black velvet. Mrs. Owen-Hughes had a unique pink lace dress with black and pink lace frilled skirt. Miss Mellor wore a blue dress with blue and white tasseled flowers on the shoulder. Mrs. McLaren looked charming in pale mauve satin. Mrs. Fitzgerald wore royal blue lace. Mrs. Sedgwick grey beaded gown. Mrs. Syme Thompson looking as gay and cheerful as ever in blue satin. Mrs. Mackie wore a blue satin while Jean, her daughter, looked very nice in white. Miss Scott Harston looked very sweet in pink. The Smalley girls all looked attractive. Joan in different shades of mauve, Mary in blue and the youngest who is out for the first time wore white. The Misses Boyd, one in flowered taffeta, the other in white with a very quaint neck line. Mrs. Butler wore a very striking long sleeved blue gown with low back covered with white. Honor Hancock looked so nice in beige trimmed with brown velvet, while Rosamund wore green georgette. Anne Dodwell looked tall and slim clad in black velvet. Mrs. Thwaites wore white with a flower on one shoulder. Mrs. Fullerton also in white with high neck line

Mrs. McFadyen wore white with a red necklace and a red ribbon in her hair. Mrs. Thom white dress with a red cape. Mrs. Sykes also in white

Mrs. Swann figured silk. One of the most striking girls was Miss Holme-Sumner, Dick Dryer's fiancée, she wore white with long scarf edged with fur.

The party went with a swing and everyone voted it one of the best held for a long time.

PEAK CLUB DANCE.

The Annual New Year Eve Fancy Dress Ball was held on Saturday night at the Peak Club and was largely attended. Many private dinner parties were held with the result that most people arrived in very good form and there was never a dull moment.

One of the most outstanding dresses was a Venetian costume worn by Mrs. Shillington. Miss (Mimi) Compton as a Russian dancer looked superb. Mrs. Martell-Hall also sported a pukka Russian costume. Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Hall went as Pierrot in black and green. Mrs. Turner looked very nice as the red lady. Mr. Turner as a Hobo looked and acted the part. We wonder if Mr. Tinson would be as good a chef in the kitchen as he was on the dance floor. The following ladies were in period costume: Miss Maud, 17th century. Miss Gracie, 18th century. Mrs. Sam King empire. Mrs. Bertie Way gay nineties. Mrs. Garner pompadour. Lady Furnell as one of the Princesses in the Tower. Mrs. Murdoch as Polly Peacham. Mrs. Ralton as a French Marquis. Mrs. Harry Owen-Hughes as a balloon seller. Miss Gerrard an Italian fishing girl. Miss Hay Edie and Miss Sheila Johnson both looked charming as Hawaiian Hula dancers.

Mrs. Anderson and Mrs. De Ville as Spanish dancers also Miss A. Haywood.

Mrs. Packer looked her usual attractive self as Peter Pan. Pamela Potter wore a Japanese costume and Mrs. Bulmer Johnson as Japanese gentleman out of the Geisha looked very fine. Mr. Valentine, Mr. M. M. Watson, and Mr. Martell-Hall were all dressed as sheikhs of the desert and were behaving as such. Mrs. Jenkinson looked the part as a French maid. Mrs. Miskin was an attractive gypsie. Miss Jean MacKie was most original as a young lady of the 18th century. Miss Virginia Varty and Mr. Andrew Shields both looked most handsome as artists. Mrs. Shields looked lovely in a black gown and silver wig.

Mrs. Reiss, Mrs. Sands, Mr. Leafe, Mr. Alford, Mr. Duffley and Mr. Reed all in gay checks. Eileen Bonnar was attractive as one of the crazy people. Mrs. Murray represented "Twink." Mr. Bugden wore an Irish kilt.

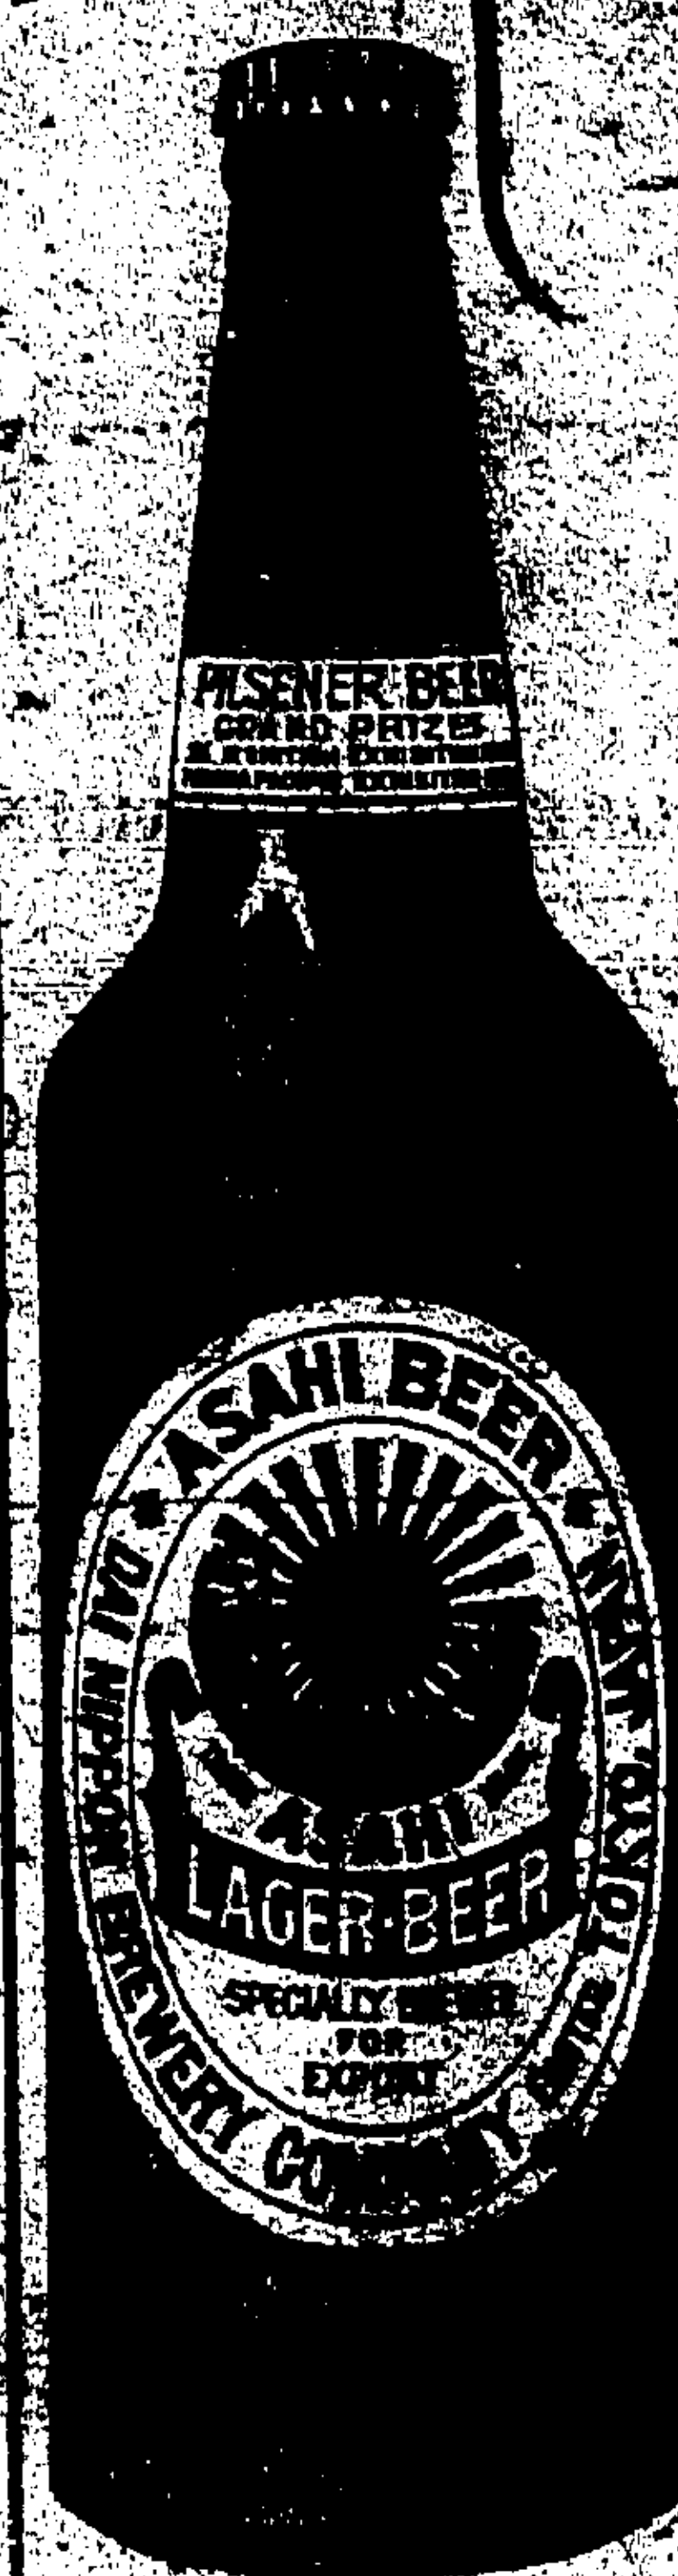

Russian costumes were worn by Mr. Walter, Mr. Reiss and Mr. Fiddes-Wilson. Mrs. Welsh wore an attractive Hungarian costume, while her husband if he can ride as well as he looked as a jockey he will be worth watching at the big meeting. Mrs. Robin Gordon as a Turkish lady looked most attractive.

The camera man had great difficulty in grouping every one as the crowd was terrific and we hope the resultant picture will not come as a great shock to some of our friends and how good-bye and good luck to all for 1934.

AT THE NEW CANTINE.

The New Theatre started its career with something of a splash on Friday night for (as I overheard one friend remark) "all the County" were present. Such an array of blue and gold and scarlet, such a bevy of beauty in velvet, fur, and satin. And the theatre itself formed a marvellous background, consisting as it does of a delightful severity of ivory, gold, and modern lighting. There and the A.D.C. have looked in the one of their future shows. It should be a great improvement on that day.

AIR TO HEART OF LONDON

Project For Landing Ground

DOOFING OVER THE THAMES

(Special Air-Mail Service)

London, December 12. During project for constructing landing ground for aeroplanes in the centre of London, in the form of a huge bridge or platform over the River Thames, will be bought before the Court of Common Council of the City on Thursday's meeting Mr. Horner.

Sketch plans of this novel airport have already been placed before the City authorities by the originator of the idea, Mr. F. A. Horner, who is himself a member of the Court of Common Council. At Thursday's meeting Mr. Horner will move:

"That the City Lands Committee, in conjunction with any other appropriate committee of the Corporation and other competent authorities, should report its findings to the Council as early as possible upon the question of erecting a landing stage or station for civil aircraft, running parallel with the River Thames at a convenient site between the bridges abutting on the City."

Mr. Horner's proposal is to erect a platform supported by girders at a sufficient height above the Thames to permit ships to pass beneath. The entire width of the river would be covered, and the platform would be a quarter of a mile in length.

The Daily Telegraph understands that the area between Southwark and Blackfriars bridges is considered to be the most suitable.

The landing stage would be built on similar lines to those suggested by a famous air pioneer, Air Commodore C. W. Bamson a few months before his death in February, 1931. By these means, it is claimed, a large landing area can be provided for Central London without the taking up of valuable City space.

The platform would be on a level with the highest of the river-side warehouses.

FAST EXPRESS LETTERS

New Postal Service

(Special Air-Mail Service)

London, December 12. A new Post Office service for express letters will come into operation on January 1, 1934. Express letters handed in at a post office will, under what is to be known as the "rallax" service, be taken by a telegraph boy to the railway station instead of going through the sorting office as at present and waiting for the first mail. A telegram will, at the same time, be sent to the post office at the other end, instructing them to collect the letter from the station and deliver it specially to the addressee. The sender may also, if more convenient, telephone to the nearest post office for the letter to be collected.

In the case of distances of a hundred miles and more this "express" service may mean a saving of four or five hours, while in other cases the saving in time will be sufficient to make the difference between delivery during or after business hours.

The fee to be charged by the Post Office is a flat rate of 2s 6d per letter for letters not exceeding two ounces in weight.

BLACK MAGIC STORIES

"Spell" That Killed Mr. Justice McCardie

MAN WHO FLOATED OVER A RAVINE

Special Air-Mail Service

London, December 12. Dr. Alexander Cannon, psychiatrist and research worker at the London County Council mental hospital at Colney Hatch, has been asked by the L.C.C. to resign.

The reason given is the publication last month of his book, "The Invisible Influence." In that book Dr. Cannon deals with hypnotism, black magic, and other occult sciences.

He investigated their practice in the East. The official view is that any one who could write such a book is not suitable to practise Western psychiatry in a mental hospital.

WHAT THE BOOK TELLS

Dr. Cannon in his book tells some extraordinary stories. "The Invisible Influence" is a record of a journey he made through India and Tibet with a Yogi, including a visit to the palace of the Grand Llama.

A Yogi is one practising the Yoga cult—a Hindu philosophy, physical as well as mental, which aims at union with the Supreme Being.

Its devotees claim that they can prolong their lives long after the accepted normal span.

Dr. Cannon asserts in his book that he saw astounding phenomena reproduced. A fig tree withered at a man's command; a seven years' corpse was restored to life.

He claims that he was told, long before the event, how Mr. Justice McCardie would die and the year of his death.

"Mr. Justice McCardie," Dr. Cannon declares, "was a victim of the great evil 'Order of the Left Hand.'"

Here is his story of that prophecy, told to him (as he explains) by the Grand Llama of Tibet.

AT LOGGERHEADS

"A great and august judge" of the Occident did nearly seven years ago visit a foreign land under an assumed name.

"There he did get at loggerheads with a man who was in reality a great black magician. When the famous judge was departing this great servant of the underworld threatened:—

"In seven years from this day shall thy body by no more: a gun of old order shall fire thee out of existence at my command; and thou shalt die in disgrace, for the world shall not know that it was not thy hand which took thy life, but my invisible hand from the great underworld."

"Thou wilt see the meaning of this soon."

"And so it came to pass," says Dr. Cannon, "that exactly seven years from that very day the newspapers of the Occident blazed forth with the lamentable news that a great judge had committed suicide."

It was the hand of the great black magician. For fourteen days prior to his death this great gentleman was awakened by a vision of two eyes each morning at two o'clock.

"I was aware of this fact, and consoled that great man that it was of no import. This judgement was wrong; for those were the eyes of the black magician who had kept his word: he had evoked the Angel of Death."

"I had forgotten the Grand Llama's warning, which was again telepathised after the event:—

"Why didst thou not tell him to be hypnotised so that the evil power could be kept at bay and he could be saved from an undue termination of his fleeting earthly life?"

Dr. Cannon writes of his friend, "Professor X" (who "nightly left in the bed his body," claimed to be more than 100 years old, but looked forty). He was a devotee of Yoga.

They walked one day in a vineyard, at the bottom of which was an aged tree.

THE TREE WITHERED

"As he stood, yet afar off, he thus addressed the tree:—

"Thou hast done well; thou hast comforted and protected my soul."

"Now hast thy time come to depart from this world of vanity and nothingness. Die now, and come to life no more."

"To my amazement the tree did immediately wither, and I was allowed to go up to it and examine its withered state, as were others."

"To-day in 'its place,' but a voice of 'barren ground,' no life whatsoever has taken root on the spot where it so long stood."

Photographs were actually taken of the camera-recorded the withering of the tree. The raising of the man who had been dead seven years is told by Dr. Cannon with a wealth of detail.

The Grand Llama was, on his throne. Then entered a host of monks carrying huge, flaming torches; and they, having seated themselves in a large circle, for the room was round, still continued to chant.

"The Grand Llama prayed, and at that moment eight men entered carrying a huge stone coffin: which stone covering-slab they did remove; and behold we saw one who appeared to be dead."

"I was given the privilege of going down from the golden standard and examining the body."

"There was no pulse, no audible heart beats; the body was stone cold, and the eyes were as one dead for more than one day."

"I tested the absence of breath by means of a mirror, which did not steam, and the body lay lifeless as in the grave."

"Then the Grand Llama uttered words in a language which was strange, and behold the eyes of the corpse opened; the body gradually sat up in its tomb."

"Assisted by two monks, it walked towards the Grand Llama, bowed, and returned to its coffin, not for one moment taking its eyes off the 'Greatest of all the sages; and in a few minutes the body once more lay lifeless.'"

"I wondered (writes Dr. Cannon) 'whether this man were really dead, or only in a trance state.'"

"The Grand Llama, reading my thoughts, told me that in fact the man had been 'dead' for seven years and that he would not be raised for another seven years."

"I was further informed that this man was some hundreds of years old, and may live for ever. If 'living' it could be called."

OVER SWIRLING RIVER

Dr. Cannon claims in his book that he has mastered hypnotism to the extent of being able to levitate himself without visible means.

He describes how he levitated himself across a fifty-foot-wide gorge over a river.

He and his yogi companion were on their way through the rocky fastnesses of the mountains to the almost inaccessible palace of the Grand Llama.

They came to a gorge 300 feet high with a swirling river beneath. On the other side, some fifty feet away, was the guide whom the Llama had sent to conduct them to his palace.

They were at a loss to know how to cross, but the Llama's emissary gave them instructions.

Dr. Cannon, taught by these orientals, had mastered this unbelievable art of levitation which he had first seen on the veranda of a friend's house.

The Yogi had performed the miracle with a servant. He hypnotised the lad and then commanded him to think only of floating on water; that the water would rise, and that he would rise with it.

"In a few moments, to my amazement," states Dr. Cannon, "the subject was levitated at least four feet."

By patient practice and study Dr. Cannon says he has mastered the art. It was by this means that he and the Yogi were instructed to cross the chasm.

"Within the course of a few hours we had made our bodily state fit to allow of this great phenomenon; and in another moment of time we both landed safely on the other side."

He also quotes the saying of a man, certified as of unsound mind, whom he had allowed to listen in on one of the earliest wireless receiving sets.

AN APPEAL

"Do you mean to tell me," said the mentally afflicted man, "that you cannot hear music in the air without a toy instrument?"

"I have heard this music at will for the past fifteen years."

Dr. Cannon, the "Sunday Express" understands, has entered an official appeal against the London County Council demand for his resignation.

"I am bound by the rules of my profession," he said to a "Sunday Express" representative. "I cannot give interviews to the newspapers."

Dr. Cannon holds the degrees of M.A., M.D., and F.R.C.S. He is a member of the Royal Medical-Psychological Association, Fellow of the Royal Society of Medicine, and a diplomate in psychological medicine of the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons.

He is the senior author of the standard medical text book, "Principles of Psychiatry."

Before he came to England Dr. Cannon was medical officer in charge of H.M. prisons, Government pathologist, alienist and medical jurist (High Court of Justice), and lecturer in morbid anatomy at Hong Kong University.

Dr. Cannon's book is published by Messrs. Rider and Co.

BERKELEY SQUARE

Fox films have scored another success in their production "Berkeley Square". It is a picture filled with gentle humour and pathos, the leads being in the capable hands of Miss Heather Angel and Leslie Howard. The latter played in the original role on the stage, and on the screen he is superb. In fact we venture to say that in this he has achieved heights hitherto unknown. Miss Angel as Helen Pettigrew is responsible for some fine acting. She has an appeal that will enchant you and hold you throughout the picture. The various parts are handled by a cast who are flawless in their respective roles. It will be interesting to know that the scenes in this film are faithful replicas of Berkeley Square, and other places of interest to Londoners.

Adjectives fail to testify to the excellence of this powerful love story so beautifully brought to you on the screen. To realise the potentiality of the entertainment prepared for you by Mr. Lasky and his craftsmen, it is necessary to see the picture. We have seen

"THERE GOES THE BRIDE"

Now Showing At The King's

"There Goes The Bride", the Gainsborough-British Lion success which Albert de Courville directed, and in which Jessie Matthews makes an amazingly successful screen debut, is so rich in amusing sequences that it is difficult to say which is the funniest. There are many who will be tickled by that incident associated with the "theft" of the pearl necklace of the hostess. The general belief is that the theft is just a prank on the part of the more high-spirited guests. Very well, then, the lights shall be lowered and the culprit shall have an opportunity of replacing the jewels on the salver, lights are lowered, lit again. Not only is the necklace not replaced, but the salver has disappeared, too!

Then there is that delightful interlude in which an aggrieved ex-fiancee (Carol Goodner) approaches the magistrate (Jessie Matthews) with stealing her fiancé. The magistrate is courteous, but firm. "Madam," he says, "stealing a fiancé is not a crime! That's a woman's business!"

"There Goes The Bride" showing at the King's Theatre, is Jessie Matthews' first starring role in a British picture.

The "Daily Mail" describes her as "A sensation". The "Evening News" as "A sparkling addition to the world's great film stars". Owen Nares plays opposite Miss Matthews in a role for which he is ideally suited.

the preview, and most earnestly recommend it to our readers.

Leslie Howard as Peter Standish inherited an old house in Berkeley Square, from a distant relative, and finds an old diary there amongst some papers and assumes that he is the old ancestor whom he resembles, and so our story dates back to the eighteenth century. He finds that he loves Helen Pettigrew, but is betrothed to her cousin, and as he puts honour before all else marries Kate.

We are giving you the cast which speaks for itself. In conclusion we repeat, that Fox has again given us a picture of which they might well be justly proud.

"BEAUTY FOR SALE"

Coming To The Queen's

"Beauty for Sale," the new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer feature coming on Thursday to the Queen's Theatre is a daring picturization of the sensational Faith Baldwin novel, "Beauty." It is a drama of modern city life, with a particularly intimate locale behind the scenes in a fashionable beauty salon. The story, which ran serially in "Cosmopolitan" Magazine, was not of the most popular of the part season.

Heading an impressive cast are Madge Evans, Alice Brady, Otto Kruger, Una Merkel, May Robson and Phillips Holmes.

A TRIANGULAR PLOT.

In the glamorous story, a triangular romantic situation is developed between the characters played by Miss Evans, Miss Brady and Kruger. Miss Evans, one of the screen's most captivating leading ladies, last was seen in "The Nuisance" and "Broadway to Hollywood." This is Miss Brady's third talkie appearance, following upon "When Ladies Meet" and "Broadway to Hollywood." Kruger, outstanding on the New York stage, recently made his film bow in "Turn Back the Clock."

Miss Merkel, who plays a gold-digger role, is remembered for her sparkling work in "Whistling in the Dark." "Forty-second Street" and other recent hits. May Robson was last seen in "Reunion in Vienna" and "Beggar's Holiday" and Holmes recently scored in "Storm at Daybreak."

A NEW YEAR TREAT

"Tugboat Annie" At The Queen's

Vivid stories of real-life adventure, famous legends of Pacific coast shipping and sagas of the brave deeds of sailors at sea, gleaned from the wharves are the basis of drama in "Tugboat Annie," in which Marie Dressler and Wallace Beery are co-starring which opened yesterday at the Queen's Theatre. Based on Norman Reilly Raine's "Saturday Evening Post" stories of the amazing adventures of the feminine tugboat skipper played by Miss Dressler, these stories in turn were based on the lore of sailors, gleaned by the author when he himself was before the mast. Many of the characters are also based on real life, for instance that of "Red" Severn, the tugboat owner, who becomes head of a fleet of liners. Raine points to the history of the late Robert Dollar, of whom, it is said, Peter B. Kyne wrote his "Cappy Ricks" stories. Miss Dressler plays Annie, and figures in comedy episodes with soap-flavoured sauerkraut, hilarious battles with Beery as Captain Terry, her good-natured but shiftless husband, and in poignant heart-interest episodes in the more serious moments in the dramatic story.

"Tugboat Annie" is excellent entertainment and a real treat for the New Year.

VIEWING THE BODY

Procedure At Coroner's Inquests.

A Bill to amend the Coroner's Abolition Ordinance appears in the current issue of the "Gazette."

It is explained that in ordinary death inquiries under Section 1 of the principal Ordinance it is left to the discretion of the Magistrate whether or not there shall be a view of the body.

Section 8, which provides for cases of inquiries into deaths in gaol originally required a view of the body in such cases, but Section 30 of the Schedule of the Law Revision Ordinance of 1924 authorised the deletion of the words "view the body."

LEGAL DOUBT

It is open to question whether this alteration by a Revision Ordinance had the effect of abolishing the view in cases under Section 8; especially as Section 4 imposes on magistrates the duties which a Coroner had by law at the commencement of the Ordinance, one of those duties being a view of the body.

In the Straits Settlements by Section 326 (2) of Ordinance No. 121, provision is made for a view of the body where it appears to the greater number of the jury to be expedient. In England by Section 14 of the Coroners (Amendment) Act, 1928, a view by the Coroner is still necessary and by the jury also if a majority so desires.

OPTIONAL FOR JURY

In the circumstances it is considered desirable to add to Section 8 of the principal Ordinance words which will make it clear that at inquiries under the section the magistrate shall view the body but that a view by the jury shall not be necessary unless it appears to the magistrate or to the greater number of jurors expedient for the jury to do so.

HOUSE OF DETENTION

No More Prison Tasks For Vagrants

In the current issue of the "Government Gazette" appears an order made by the Governor-in-Council relative to the House of Detention.

This order provides for the rescissions of previous requirements regarding the employment of vagrants, under which power was allowed to order the picking of not more than 14 lbs. of oakum a day or crank labour not exceeding 7,000 revolutions a day.

INDUSTRIAL TRADE

The new regulation under this heading provides that "a vagrant in a house of Detention may be employed at such work as an industrial trade, preferably the

CHINA LIGHT & POWER COMPANY

Healthy State Of Affairs Revealed

NO FURTHER NEW CAPITAL NEEDED

Mr. A. H. Compton, presiding over the annual meeting of the China Light & Power Company on Saturday observed that the award of $2,000,000 to Messrs. Shewan, Tomes in respect of compensation for their former General Managership, was greatly in excess of anything that had been contemplated, but in spite of that, he felt that the development of the undertaking would not be handicapped.

Referring to the issue of one new share to seven old ones, the Chairman said that the directors did not anticipate the need for further new capital in the near future.

It was announced that dividend warrants would be ready by February 1.

Supporting the Chairman were the Hon. Mr. J. P. Braga, Mr. Felix A. Joseph, Mr. Lo Cheung Shiu and Mr. Horace Kadoodle (directors) and Mr. Noel Braga (secretary). There was also a good attendance of shareholders.

CHAIRMAN'S SPEECH

Addressing the meeting, the Chairman said:—

Gentlemen.—The accounts for the financial year ending 30th September, 1933, having been in your hands for the requisite time, I propose to take them as read.

The gross profit for the year amounted to $1,134,896.02, as against $1,066,296.58 for the previous financial year. After charging profit and loss account with directors' fees, interest and depreciation, etc., the net profit stands at $658,855.27. Considering that we have provided $384,000 for depreciation, which is over $35,000 more than last year, and in view of the well known fact that the general depression is not without serious effect on this Colony, your directors feel that there is every reason for congratulation that the net profit is as satisfactory as it is.

You will realise of course that the increased figure for depreciation is necessary because we have added to our plant in the last year—the principal addition being a 80,000 lb. boiler, which I am glad to say makes for greater efficiency in the power station.

The company's assets are shown in gr at detail in the balance sheet and call for little comment. The amount of approximately $240,000 added to land account is not due to new acquisitions but consists for the most part of transfers from buildings account of amounts paid for the reclamation of K.M.L. 93 Extension and K.M.L. 100, both adjacent to the present Power Station.

ADDITIONS TO PLANT AND MACHINERY

Capital additions to plant and Machinery will strike you as being very considerable, and it would seem at first sight that this alone we spent about $1,000,000 during the past year. Actually, this is not the case, as a large part of the Stores and Machinery in stock and in transit last year has been transferred to capital after their installation and erection on site, etc. In fact, the total of these two items of Stores and Machinery in stock and in transit, at 30th September, 1932, was just over $1,000,000, whereas the corresponding figure this year is under $450,000.

Extensions to our overhead system in the New Territories were carried out in the following areas:—

From the Autau Supertension Step-down Substation to Castle Peak; this line is primarily designed to feed the two large brick-works in this neighbourhood, both of which have adopted electric drive. This line is continued on to that portion of the Castle Peak district where some foreign residences have recently been erected. The extension from our Kwantli Step-down Substation to Sha Tau Kok was completed, and I am pleased to report that the residents in this area are appreciating the advantages of a supply of electricity.

A SPECIAL SUBSTATION A special substation has been erected in a suitable position to supply electric power to the large works connected with the construction of the Shing Mun Gorge Dam. The total load connected will eventually amount to something in the neighbourhood of 1,200 h.p., and it is estimated that the Dam will take from 3 to 4 years to build.

During the year, the Hong Kong Breweries and Distillers, Ltd., put into operation their brewery plant at Sham Tseng (Sham Cheng), which as you know is electrically operated, taking their supply from this Company.

As regards the Change of Frequency, this has been in large measure completed.

Our programme for the change of pressure from 2200 to 6600 Volts is well in hand, and we hope that so far as the main feeders are concerned this work will be completed in all districts before the end of this year with the exception of the Tsim Sha Tsui (Chim Sar Chui) area.

All machinery and equipment both at our generating station and in the substations has been maintained in a high state of efficiency.

A VERY SEVERE BLOW

Your Company was dealt a very severe blow last February when the sum of $2,000,000 was awarded to Messrs. Shewan, Tomes & Co. as compensation in respect of their former general managership. In spite of the fact that this amount was greatly in excess of anything that had been contemplated, I feel that I can say with confidence that this heavy charge will not in any way handicap the development of your undertaking. This $2,000,000, together with the cost of the expensive and protracted arbitration by Sir Joseph Kemp, appears as an item in our balance sheet, and it is desirable, your directors consider, to write it off gradually in the course of years. As a beginning, your directors propose to place this year to a special reserve a sum which is slightly in excess of the commission which would have been earned by Messrs. Shewan, Tomes & Co. had they remained as general managers.

Your directors decided to offer to shareholders of the Company at par one additional share to every seven existing shares held by them, as has been announced in the papers. I may say that, after this new issue has been made, your directors so far as they are able to see at the present time, do not anticipate the need for further new capital in the near future.

I now have to propose that the amount of $820,918.73 which is available for appropriation shall be dealt with as follows:—

To pay a Dividend of 45 cents per share on the "Old" Shares allotted prior to 1st October, 1932, and proportional amounts on the shares allotted subsequently to that date, absorbing about $591,444.50

To place to a Special Reserve in respect of Compensation paid to Messrs. Shewan, Tomes & Co., $20,000.00

To carry forward the balance amounting to about $209,474.23

COMPANY'S STAFF THANKED

Before putting this as a resolution, I should like to say that this result, which I think we may regard as decidedly good in present circumstances, could not have been attained without the efficient and energetic work of the whole of the Company's Staff. I am sure that shareholders will agree that the Company's thanks are due to them for their unflinching efforts.

You are aware of course that since our last Meeting Mr. Stratford has retired from the service of the Company to which he had given such unstinted devotion. I am glad to say that we still, however, retain his services in an advisory capacity in England.

As announced recently in the papers, the Directors appointed Mr. D. W. Munton, the Deputy Manager, to succeed him.

I now put the following Resolution:—

"That the Report and Accounts as presented to this meeting be hereby adopted and passed, that a dividend of 45 cents per share on the "Old" Shares allotted prior

UNION CHURCH

Sunday School Party

A lovely treat for Sunday School children was held at the Kowloon Union Church on Saturday where some ninety odd kiddies gathered to a Christmas party. Talk about fun! If you could have seen some of them romping about laughing and shouting for all they were worth you would have felt young again yourself.

The primary tots gathered at 3 o'clock and after various exclamations and inspection of the Christmas tree had subsided, games were started, the old favourites like "Farmer in a Dell" proving the most popular. The elder children gathered at about four. These seemed to prefer the more vigorous exercises both for their muscles and their voices. Soon the fun spread like fire and the whole room became one of gay confusion.

Tea was served shortly afterwards. Later in the evening Santa Claus appeared and made many a face beam by delivering a present to each kid in the room. The party was over only too soon and by six o'clock the children were sent away to bed but contented. Mr. R. Hall performed his duty most successfully in his role of Santa Claus.

OFFICIAL PARTY

There was an official dinner on board H.M.S. Tamar, given by the Commodore, and the whole party went along to the Concert afterwards. I saw His Excellency the Governor and Lady Peel, General and Mrs. Borrett, The Admiral with Lady Dreyer, Sir Thomas and Lady Southern (looking very well after Home leave), Captain Walter and Captain Mears, Mr. and Mrs. McKichan, Miss Mary William, and Commander and Mrs. Selmore. Also upstairs were Major and Mrs. Atkinson, Mr. and Mrs. "Tam" Pearce, Dr. and Mrs. Strahan, Major Dowbiggin with his wife and daughter, the Shields with Miss Varty, Mr. Justice Wood, Dean Swann, Mr. and Mrs. Alabaster with Rosalie, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Lindsell and their niece, Miss Mollison, Mr. and Mrs. Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. Stafford Smith, and Mr. and Mrs. Tinson.

OF THE GROUND FLOOR.

Among those who had seats on the lower floor, I noticed Major and Mrs. Parkes the latter in a lovely frock of purple velvet, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Reels, Mr. and Mrs. Binney of the Shing Mun Valley, the two Miss Hancock, both in short white fur coats, Mr. Kneller, Colonel Macpherson, Dr. and Mrs. Tottenham, Mr. and Mrs. Raworth, she wearing a most attractive black velvet coat, trimmed with white fur, Colonel Boyd's two daughters, and Mr. and Mrs. Parry-Wingfield.

WAITING FOR CARS.

I took advantage of the few minutes wait for our baby Austin to get some more names for you. There was a large crowd standing by the doors and it was rather hard for me to see over them, but I managed to distinguish Mr. W. Hamilton and the Hon. Mr. E.D.C. Wolfe with his wife and daughter. A few yards further on I saw Commander and Mrs. MacCartan, Miss Pat Master, Captain and Mrs. Sedgewick, Mr. and Mrs. Platt, Colonel and Mrs. Carrington Sykes, Miss Heather Gerrard, and the Deputy Inspector General, Mr. King.

to 1st October, 1932, and proportional amounts on the Shares allotted subsequently to that date, be declared in respect of the financial year ending 30th September, 1933, that a sum of $80,000 be placed to a special reserve in respect of compensation paid to Messrs. Shewan, Tomes & Co., and that the undivided profits of the Company at 30th September, 1933, less these appropriations, be carried forward to the credit of profit and loss account for the ensuing financial year."

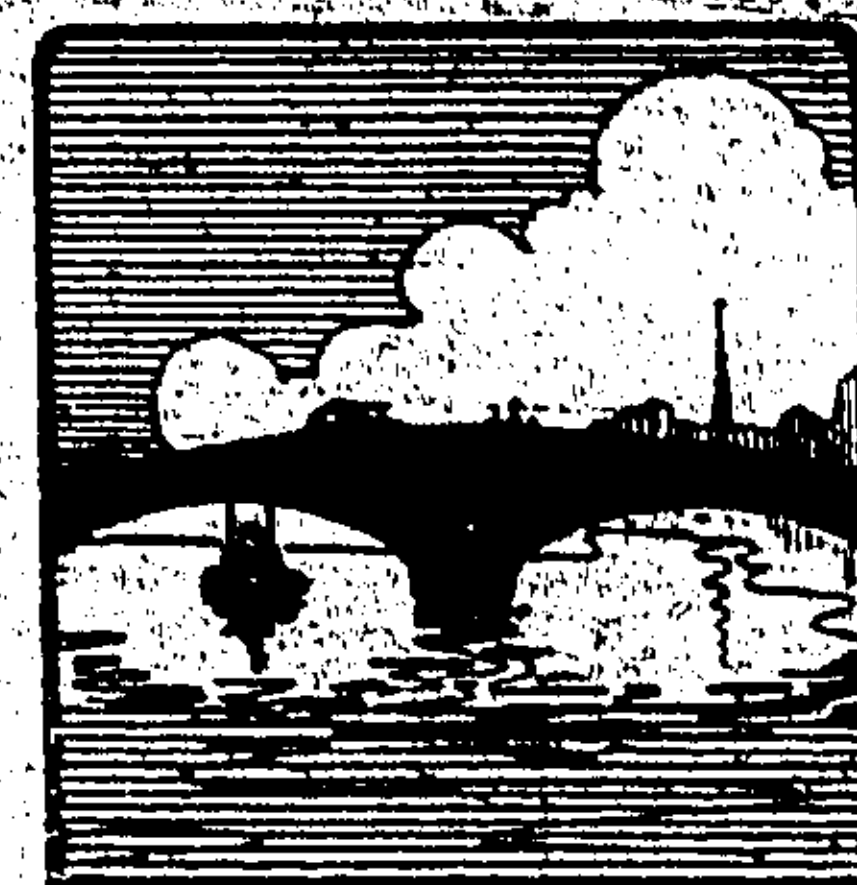

Mr. Kadoodle: I beg to second the resolution.

The Chairman then invited the meeting to ask questions, but there being none, the resolution was put to the meeting and carried.

Mr. A. H. Compton and Mr. C. A. de Rosa were re-elected Directors of the Company on the proposal of Mr. E. Nisim seconded by Mr. F. W. M. da Silva. Messrs. Lowe, Blumham, Matthews and Messrs. Hasted and Davis were re-elected auditors of the Company on the proposal of Mr. Austin seconded by Mr. J. Gould.

The following shareholders were present:—

ECONOMICS &amp; RELIGION

Dr. Norwood's Sermon At Union Church

RELIGIOUS ASPECTS OF MONEY

Dr. F. W. Norwood, minister of the City Temple, London, now on a world tour, preached to a large congregation in Union Church, Hong Kong, yesterday morning. Amongst those present were H.E. the Governor, Sir William Peel (accompanied by Capt. R. F. Walker, A.D.C.), and Sir Thomas and Lady Southorn.

Dr. Norwood conducted the whole service. His reading of the lesson—the parables of the Unjust Stewards and the Pharisee and the Publican—was instinct with dramatic power. His prayer—on "how to pray"—will long be remembered.

Dr. Norwood took as his text the words "Man ought always to pray and not to faint," and the later passage, in which Christ concluded, with what sounds like a sigh, "Nevertheless, when the Son of Man cometh, shall he find faith on the earth?" The preacher remarked that commentators and expositors had never been happy with that saying; many have tried to explain it and most to explain it away. It sounded like a contradiction in terms and had perplexed men through the centuries.

Perhaps (continued Dr. Norwood) this is one of those cryptic sayings of which the only expositor is a world crisis. Perhaps we ourselves may be nearer to the understanding of it than the people to whom He said it; for surely we are living in a day of the coming of the Son of Man, and just as surely as we are living in a day when the faith of man is sorely tried, and appears even to be vanishing. Whenever Christ spoke of Himself as the Son of Man he was always thinking directly of humanity. Other men were discussing whether they might speak of Him as the Son of God; He loved to think of Himself as the Son of Man, and surely there never was a day—perhaps since the world began—when the sons of men of whom Jesus is the supreme representative, have more truly entered into their day.

GREATEST DAY THE WORLD HAS SEEN

This is potentially the greatest day the world has ever seen. Never before has the power of man over the forces of Nature been comparable with that which he exerts to-day. There seems to be no objective that man can envisage, to reach which he is forbidden. Were his objectives really the coming of the sons of men, were they the elimination of poverty, the cure or prevention of disease, the dispersal of ignorance, never since the world began, has the power of man been so potent.

But, at the same time, we are conscious of a state of world crisis. That is the world which is upon our lips continually. It is not a new word; the world is always more or less in a state of crisis; without a crisis there never is progress of any kind. But there are some features about the present condition of things which can be called unique.

One of them is that the crisis is universal. It does not matter where you go throughout this world of ours—whether from China to Peru, as the old phrase used to be—you will hear men speaking of crisis.

There is a sense in which this state of crisis is a reflection of man's universal power. He has so discovered and encompassed the world, so thrown about it his influence, that the same phenomena are reproduced everywhere. That is new in history, so far as I know.

Another feature of the crisis of our time is that it does not emerge directly from man's weakness, but rather from his power. All over the world the one word which in every tongue is on the lips of men to-day is the word "Over-production." Does it simply mean that man has more power to produce the things that he requires or desires than he has ever had in history but he has not the power to use them adequately? It is his power that perplexes him. His power over his contrivances, his universal institutions, his great and wonderful machines are his embarrassment. They have created desires in the hearts of men everywhere which have made them restless.

It is not that men are more unfortunate to-day than in previous times; it is not that they are more hungry or more impoverished. Rather the opposite from that, it is that their experience, and still more their vision of the possibilities that are in life have led them to compare their actual attainments with the latent possibilities, and has presented mankind with a new state of world crisis.

WHERE WE FAIL

It would seem that the crisis that presents such common features everywhere would call for a common remedy, but it is there that we fail. For while the crisis is the same everywhere, the remedies which are suggested are parochial and partial, and futile. Surely nobody could look upon the world to-day without feeling that its present dynamic is a great spiritual dynamic. Almost all men admit that though multitudes of men despair of discovering it, the fact is we are not great enough to match with the greatness of the hour. We need reinforcement within.

The only apparent remedies that we seem to be attempting to prescribe are such remedies as the imposition of tariffs or the preparation for war, or the manipulation of money. All these things have been tried out and have failed. It does not need a great deal of acumen to perceive their fallacies.

It is obvious that when we refuse to buy, we also limit our power to sell. It is obvious that we have made money to be something which is quite distinct from industry. All honest money is the servant of industry. There is no honest money in the world except that which represents an equivalent amount of labour done, or of value created. It is a mere medium of exchange but we have made it a god. We have worshipped it for its own sake; we have divorced it from the service of the needs of man; we have made it a thing with which men may juggle; to which they apply false values, so that it comes between man and Nature.

All of us can see when we think of it, that we do not engage in industry primarily for the meeting of the needs of men; we are engaged in industry primarily for the making of monetary profit. We do not grow food for the hungry; we grow food that we may sell it to the wealthiest people we can possibly find, who, inevitably, are the least hungry. We do not grow the great materials of the world in order that we may clothe the naked; we make them may tempt the fastidiousness of the rich. We have no place in our civilisation for man's abject need—save charity, or some other pseudo-charitable contrivance which is forced upon us by necessity. The real truth is that abject need means abject poverty; and because there is lack of that medium of exchange that we call "money," therefore we quite consciously and deliberately stop the upward progress of mankind.

NOT ECONOMICS

Now this is not economics I am talking; it is religion. I mean that if Jesus Christ be true, if He meant what He said, if He really reveals the character and purpose of God, then, inevitably these things must be attacked and cured, or they must produce crisis. It would be a much more immoral world if there were no crisis.

These processes of which I have spoken lead inevitably to war. That truth has been burned into us in these tremendous post-war years. We used war to the full some fifteen years ago. We used it with honesty of purpose, with infinite courage, with marvellous skill; we used it so determinedly that we gathered up into its service all the forces the nations possessed. We used it so widely and universally that seven-eighths of the human race were politically involved in the war; that is to say, they were instructed by their Governments that the only way to peace and honour was by the destruction of life and property.

And if we are surprised that the aftermath of that should be world-trouble, then we do not really believe in Jesus Christ. It would be a much less Christian world if there were no post-war crisis. What is happening in this world to-day, surely—at least let us trust so and believe so—is that in the minds of men there is coming a fairer appreciation of this tremendous truth. We cannot yet see our way through, but it is safe to say there is more logical thinking, more moral desire in the world to-day than there has ever been since the world began; it is the day of the coming of the Son of Man.

At the time when Jesus used this expression he was speaking of prayer; that was the purpose of His parable—to stimulate prayer. It is about time we overhauled our prayers. We should ask ourselves not only what we are praying for but what we are praying against. Are the prayers of the Church directly and positively levelled against the evils of the world? Do we pray against the corporate systems that perpetuate injustice among men? Do we pray against the misuse of money that withholds the privileges of life from the unfortunate?

Do we pray against the forces that make for war? I never want to speak lightly about war. I was in the war. I was for two years among the troops of my own country. I carry in my heart an undying respect and affection for the gallant men whom I knew. I

H. K. N. V. FORCE

Committee Appointed By The Governor

The Committee appointed by His Excellency The Governor, consisting of Lieutenant Commander A. L. Beasant, R.N., Lieutenant Commander G. C. P. Menzies, R.N., H. S. Rouse, Esq., and S. H. Ross, Esq., with Commodore F. Elliott, O.B.E., R.N., as Chairman, have commenced their examination of those who have made application for enrollment in the Hong Kong Naval Volunteer Defence Force. A brief explanation of certain matters in connection with the organisation and formation of the Force may therefore be of interest.

The Ordinance, which provides for the Establishment of the Volunteer Naval Defence Force, lays down that the Force will function within the waters of the Colony and the precinct thereof and the duties will not take the members away from their Hong Kong domicile.

Instruction drills will take place on shore and opportunities will be afforded for members to proceed to sea for training in Harbour Launches and ships of His Majesty's Navy when members are able to take a day or two away from their business.

Uniform which will be similar to that worn by corresponding ranks in the Royal Navy—with certain deviations with regard to distinction stripes—will be provided from the funds of the Force. Pay and Allowances, when called up for service, will be as prescribed by the Governor in Council.

It will not be possible to enroll up to the full complement at first and consequently any man who is interested and keen to make use of his spare time in a very useful manner should apply for the necessary forms either to the Commodore, Hong Kong's Office, Murray Road, telephone No. 30361, extension No. 5, or to H. S. Rouse, Esq., of the Public Works Department, telephone No. 39, extension 206.

All applicants will be interviewed by arrangement with the Selection Committee.

Should an applicant not be selected for the first batch it will still be possible for him to attend drills and lectures, but he will not be provided with uniform until the organisation is sufficiently far advanced to enroll the full complement.

see clearly that it is almost impossible at this moment to devise a policy that can eliminate war immediately.

I always speak—I trust with understanding and with sympathy—of my comrades who are engaged in the Army and in the Navy; but nevertheless I hold it is positively the duty of all Christian people to pray against the forces that make for war. And they are not military, except in the last analysis; they are economic; they are human. They arise out of human needs and human offences.

I would like to ask you—merely as a passing stranger who is privileged to speak to you once and then goes wandering about the world—what are you praying for? Peace? Peace may be the most immoral thing imaginable! Do not pray for peace, pray for the justice out of which peace grows as naturally as a flower.

WHAT ARE YOU AGAINST?

What are you praying against, and against what is your mind and your speech and your labour protesting in this day of the coming of the Son of Man? For I repeat again, this is the greatest day, potentially, this world has ever known. In our day when the biggest things in the world are waiting to emerge, when humanity is travelling in birth of a better, saner order just then is our faith failing? I do not believe it will ultimately fail. I can quite believe there may be many troubles and trials before the coming of a better day, but I believe that, as surely as the sun rises, so mankind moves onward to larger experiences, to wider vistas and to deepening inspirations, into the mind and spirit of Jesus. There are some things which are being burned into our souls to-day, of which we would have scarcely ventured to speak a few short years ago. This, for instance:

I know the need of the world. When the earth shakes beneath the tread. Of men who marched to the fight. When rivers with blood are red. When there is no law but might. When the wrong way seems the right.

When he who slaughters the most. Is all men's pride and boast. The need of the world I know. The need of the world is love. Down, death its last for power. Down, death its passionate greed. For the choice that lasts but an hour. There lies for ever its need. For love is the law and need.

SATURDAY'S TRAINING GALLOPS

Prima Donna Comes To The Fore: Nell Gwyn Again Prominent

(BY "MORNING DEW")

Nell Gwyn again did a convincing gallop on Saturday when he covered three quarters of a mile in 1.29.4, finishing strongly.

Mr. A. M. L. Soares kept over Griffin, Prima Donna was sent over the full Derby distance, finishing full of running. The last half mile was covered in 1.05 and the last quarter in 30 seconds, which is very good indeed.

Soldier of Britain also went over the full distance and his last half mile of 1.04 is even better than that of Prima Donna.

To know the truth, however, is not always easy, because there are many things masquerading under the semblance of it, and whisky is no exception. But the truth of flavour about this choice old stimulant is verified by the world's ablest judges of whisky. It is a sign of excellence and age development. The true whisky is

THE NEW YEAR

It is New Year's Day to-day. In wishing you the best for the Season we hope you will be granted in a large measure the many things for which we all at the New Year so sanguinely wish.

What a wonderful sound "has New Year"! It is so laden with promise, so fresh and untouched, like feasting our eyes on a virgin patch of snow, unsullied and most wondrous inviting. It has all the charm of turning over a leaf in a book full of interest, excitement and fraught with possibilities and great promise. We feel rather like school-boys starting a new term after a spell of holidays, not quite sure whether we want to rush into the term, yet magnetized by the idea of beginning afresh, all the old troubles, petty misadventures and mistakes forgotten with new exercise-books, pens, and pencils, and stimulated ambitions.

Last night all of us in some way or another made our farewell bow to the old year and shook hands heartily with the new. Fickle creatures, we humans, so glad to meet the new and so short in memory of the old. Yet there must have been a great deal in 1933 which we shall all in our secret ways cherish past deeds and many an incident, a few deeper memories that can never be replaced, only resuscitated on still nights, or as a bar of music, or a whiff of scent recalls them in living poignancy. All this was in the flourish of our hand as we bade 1933 farewell.

But it is now 1934, 1933 is over and done with: the leaves shed from the trees are no longer of any use though they return to the soil for its nourishment. It is 1934 and we must look forward, ever forward for that is the Destiny of the Human Race.

Let us remember in this New Year the beauty and the humanity of this world: that there is a great deal to compensate us in the difficulties that are bound to beset our ways. Let us include in those shining hopes which we are all humanly making for the year 1934, a few thoughts for the others around us; it is only by the unanimous pulling together of human beings, each in their own spheres, that there can ever be any relief from the conditions that have been smothering the beauty of the world.

It is New Year's Day to-day. Let us go forth with bright and hopeful hearts to fulfil our appointed missions to the best of our ability during the year of 1934.

I Happy New Year

The New Year was ushered in with time-honoured pomp and splendour, following the time signal which was fired at midnight. Previous to this, the ships in the harbour sounded their sirens for about five minutes, and coming in the middle of the night, even though Hong Kong was very much awake, they had a somewhat melancholy note about them, as if they were sounding the Last Post in honour of 1933, now a leaf of the past.

In the hotels and clubs, in private residences and even in the cabarets, "Auld Lang Syne" was sung in a way which is done only when one is bidding goodbye to a year, just making way for a new one.

A Happy New Year, full of good luck and good cheer, is our message this morning to all our readers.

OBITUARY

Gerald William Lammert

A cloud of gloom was cast over the whole of Shameen, Canton, during the week-end with announcement that Gerald Lammert, the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Lammert of Canton, passed away at the Matilda Hospital in the early hours of Saturday morning, following a short bout of rheumatic fever.

"Gerry", as he was affectionately called by all who knew him, was extremely popular in Shameen despite the fact that he was only 15 years of age and the deep sympathy of a large circle of friends will go out to the parents and members of the family in their heavy bereavement.

The deceased was a student at the Central British School but he returned to Canton towards the end of October following an attack of typhoid. He recovered from this, however, and seemed on the way to restoration of good health but last week he was suddenly taken ill and was sent to the Hospital on Wednesday.

"Gerry" had the makings of an excellent all-round sportsman in him and his sick work in hockey had already been the subject of much comment by some of the more experienced players.

THE FUNERAL

The funeral took place at the Protestant Cemetery, Happy Valley, last evening when a large number of friends gathered to pay their last respects. Among those present were, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. ## A VERDICT OF GUILTY

Against O'Duffy's Supporter

Dublin, December 30.—After a trial lasting several days, a military tribunal found Commandant Cronin, a prominent supporter of Genl O'Duffy, not guilty on the charge of sedition but guilty on two other counts relating to membership of unlawful associations.

Commandant Cronin was sentenced to three months' imprisonment, though the sentence will not be carried out if he gives recognisance of $50 to keep the peace for two months.

During the trial Joseph Dennigan, political correspondent of the de Valerle paper, the Irish Press, was sentenced to one month's imprisonment for contempt in refusing to divulge the source of information to the effect that members of unlawful associations would be allowed time to resign.

Dennigan said that the information had been confirmed by an official source but declined to be more specific.

He said his editor had agreed that it would be a breach of confidence to give the information.—Reuter.

A SUICIDAL PROPOSAL

New York, Dec. 30.

The Bank Code proposed by 100 banks for the New York district is meeting with a mixed reception on Wall Street.

Bank shares responded favourably as the new scheme aims at making banks self-supporting despite the present low interest levels.

On the other hand, Wall Street is of the opinion that the proposed charges on deposits of under $10,000 and fees for cheques drawn, will result in a change over by depositors to those savings banks which are paying interest, and in a large increase of cash payments.

The head of the National Recovery Administration, General Hugh S. Johnson, has declared that the proposals are suicidal.—Reuter.

MISS M. PETERSEN

London, Dec. 30.—Mrs. A. O. Fisher, better known as Miss Margaret Petersen, the famous novelist, died to-day in her 51st year.—Reuter.

Miss Petersen, who was awarded the 250 guinea prize for the best first novel in 1913, spent a great part of her youth in India, and settled in London in 1910. During the early stages of the Great War, she worked for some months in a British hospital lent to the French. Since 1913 she wrote 33 novels, one of which, "Dust of Desire", was filmed under the title of "Song of Love". She was also the author of a play entitled "The Summons" and a poem "The Women's Message".

MR. J. B. PATELL

Japan Rejects General Ho's Request

Peking, December 30.—An official Chinese bulletin states that the Japanese have informed General Ho Ying-ching that they have rejected the request of General Liu Kuei-tang for permission to enter the demilitarized zone with his troops, who would be dealt with in the same manner as the troops of General Fang Chen-wu and General Chi Hung-chang should they venture into the zone.

The Japanese troops at Kueikow are held ready for action in the event General Liu Kuei-tang ignoring the warning.

The Bulletin reveals that when General Liu Kuei-tang left Chincheng on Christmas Day he carried off General Chang-Shu-shen, the representative of General Sung Cheyuan as hostage.

General Liu is at present located at Tungpangmiao, just outside the Great Wall.—Reuter.

GERMANY'S DEBTS

Highhanded Action of Reichsbank

London, December 30.—The Committee of the British Long Term and Medium Term Creditors of Germany have been in communication with the United Kingdom Government concerning the action of German Reichsbank, who, without obtaining the consent of the creditors, on December 18 announced the curtailment, during the first six months of 1934, of cash transfers in foreign currency of the payment on Germany's medium and long term debt, from 75 per cent to 65 per cent.

The interest payments on the Dawes and Young loans were unaffected.

This arbitrary unilateral action, following on the discrimination shown by the German Government against British creditors in October, in granting full payment to Swiss and Dutch creditors, is arousing increasing indignation in financial circles in London.

"It is known that the United Kingdom Government protested to the German Government against these actions on November 6 and December 23 respectively, but have received no satisfactory reply."

While the right of the Reichsbank to seek an agreement with creditors for any modification of the existing agreement is nowhere questioned, the view is freely expressed that vigorous action should be taken to protect the interests of British creditors against discrimination and unilateral action.—British Wireless Service.

WEEKLY TREASURY ISSUE

London, December 30.—A total of £29,465,000 was applied for in the weekly tenders for Treasury bills yesterday. The amount allotted in bills at three months was £40,000,000. The average rate per cent was 19/4.564, per cent, as compared with 23/11.484 per cent last week.—British Wireless Service.

LAW AND ORDER AT ANY PRICE

ROUMANIAN GOVERNMENT'S RIGOROUS ACTION

Near Panic At Railway Station

PREMIER'S BROTHER-IN-LAW FIRES AT ASSASSIN

[Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright.)]

Bucharest, Dec. 30. The Roumanian Government is taking rigorous measures in order to nip in the bud any attempt on the side of ultranationalist circles to take advantage of the present state of excitement and uneasiness for the purpose of instigating disorders. A Cabinet Council, late on Saturday, decided to proclaim a state of siege and press censorship throughout the country. In a manifesto, addressed to the nation, the Government stresses its firm determination to maintain law and order by all means at its disposal.—Transocean Kuo Min.

Sinala (Roumania), Dec. 30. A highly dramatic scene took place on Saturday forenoon at Sinala Station shortly before the departure of the train carrying the dead Premier's body to the Roumanian capital. Duca's brother-in-law, a large landowner named Polcu, suddenly forced his way into the room of the station building where the late Premier's murderer, Constantinescu, was being kept pending his removal to Floss, where he is to face court martial. Before the guards could intervene Polcu drew his revolver and fired one shot at Constantinescu which however missed its mark. Polcu was overpowered and disarmed before he could pull the trigger a second time.

In the midst of the tumult caused by this incident another detonation occurred at the Royal waiting room of the station building causing a near panic among the hundreds crowding the station. After police and military rushed to the scene it was discovered that a boy had stepped on a revolver cartridge lying on the floor of the waiting room. The exploding cartridge had severely wounded the child. It has not yet been ascertained how the cartridge came to be lying in the waiting room. The Roumanian press continues to express its abhorrence of the crime stressing that this was the first political assassination in the country's recent history. One paper speaks of "the country's atmosphere being heavy with the bloody reek of anarchy," but political circles are convinced that Constantinescu's atrocious deed will in the end strengthen the Government's authority by rallying the overwhelming majority of the population to its support.—Transocean Kuo Min.

POLAND'S FRIEND

Warsaw, Dec. 3. The Polish press pays warm tribute to the murdered Roumanian Premier who was regarded him as a sincere friend of Poland. The papers point out that Duca always believed that a Polish-Roumanian alliance would constitute one of the surest foundations of Roumanian's foreign policy.—Transocean Kuo Min.

AN "ENEMY'S" SORROW

Bucharest, Dec. 30. Following the assassination of the Roumanian Premier, M. Duca, a flood of messages of sympathy is pouring in at the capital. One cablegram came from George Bratianu who was one of the late Premier's bitterest personal enemies. Bratianu declares that the atrocity greatly stirred him. The entire press voices abhorrence of this dastardly crime.—Transocean Kuo Min.

KING CRITICISED

Paris, Dec. 30. The murder of the Roumanian Premier made the deepest impression in French political circles where the deceased was highly appreciated as a great friend of France and as the initiator of the Franco-Roumanian Treaty of Friendship.

Some newspapers criticise King Carol's "personal" policy which they make him responsible for the weakening of the authority of the Roumanian Government. Thus the "Echo de Paris" draws the conclusion that Roumania is not only passing through a dreadful economic and financial crisis but is also in the midst of a serious moral crisis, which, according to the paper, is attributable mainly to the decrease of the government's prestige under ex-Premier Valda Voysko.

The entire Press agrees in considering Roumania's situation as critical. They also venture to say that the fatal shots will produce far reaching consequences.—Transocean.

AUDIENCE WITH KING CAROL

New York, December 30. The Roumanian Prime Minister, M. Duca, has been assassinated, according to a message received here yesterday, from Bucharest. M. Duca was shot dead with a revolver by a student at Sinala railway station last night. He received three bullets in the brain. M. Duca had just had an audience with His Majesty, King Carol. The student has been arrested. His name is Constantinescu, and he is believed to be a member of the disbanded anti-Semitic "Iron Guard" organisation. He had three accomplices, but he himself threw a bomb besides firing the fatal shots.

A Deputy, M. Constantinescu, who was with M. Duca, was wounded. M. Angelescu, Minister of Education, becomes acting-Premier.—Reuter.

"NOT A GOOD PATRIOT"

The assassin of M. Duca, the Roumanian Premier, is Constantinescu, a 28-year-old student at the Bucharest Commercial Academy. His accomplices are Calimati, who is a coffee-house keeper, and a man named Dioubenimale.

Constantinescu who was a candidate for the Fascist pro-German organisation, the "Iron Guard" at the recent election, stated that he shot M. Duca because as a Freemason he was not a good patriot. A Council of Ministers has decided to arrest all members of the "Iron Guard" and to take further drastic measures to maintain order.

M. Duca was aware of the significance of the "Iron Guard" movement and of the support it was receiving from abroad, and recently dissolved it in order to safeguard the State and to protect Jewish and other minorities.

Assuming virtually Dictatorial powers, he was engaged in suppressing the incipient nationalism as an example to the formation of "Storm Troops" on the Nazi model.

The murder has revealed an unsuspected fanaticism in the bitter cleavage between the old political parties, headed by M. Duca's Liberals, and the young generation of Roumanian Fascists, who are imbued with revolutionary aims.

M. Duca's body has been taken to the Royal Palace at Pelesh and will be accorded a National funeral.

"IRON GUARD" LEADERS ARRESTED

Following King Carol's appointment of M. Angelescu, the Minister of Education, as Prime Minister of Roumania, the Cabinet met to decide the measures to be adopted as the result of M. Duca's assassination.

The arrest of the leaders of the "Iron Guard," including General Cantacuzino, acting-leader of the organisation, continued throughout Friday night, but it is reported that the actual leader, Codreanu, has disappeared since the dissolution of the movement was announced by the late Premier.—Reuter.

AN ABORTIVE MUTINY

Serious Affair At Rio de Oro

[Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright.)]

Madrid, Dec. 30. News of an abortive mutiny in the African colony Rio de Oro, costing the lives of a Spanish captain and a native soldier, reaching here to-day resulted in the immediate dispatch of a gunboat to the colony. The commandant of the fort at which the half-hearted insurrection occurred has been recalled at the same time.

As the troops lined up for inspection at the military camp, Cape Juby, at the command of a native officer, according to the official report, a native soldier refused to obey and raised his gun. The Spanish captain Caule leaped between the soldier and the native officer and caught the discharge full in his breast. The shot formed the signal for a general riot which, since only half of the troops turned against the officers, ended with the mortal wounding of one rebel, injuries to others and the flight of fourteen mutineers into the jungle.—Transocean Kuo Min.

CIVIL WAR IMMINENT

Grave Crisis In Havana

Havana, December 31. Arrangements are being made for the removal of British subjects to safety as a result of fears of the biggest battle that has so far occurred here, and civil war is imminent. Huge shipments of arms, ammunition and tanks for the Opposition Forces were landed here.—Reuter.

AN AMBITIOUS PROGRAMME

Second Russian Five Year Plan

Moscow, December 31. The programme for the second Five Year Plan to make the Soviet Union a rival for her most powerful neighbours just published, provides for the volume of production up to the end of 1937. As compared with 1932 when the first Five Year Plan terminated it shows an increase of two-and-a-half times or nine times over pre-war production.

Seven thousand miles of new railways are foreshadowed and also the doubling of Agricultural output. An eight hundred and thirty per cent increase in motor car production is planned, as is also the completion of the Volga Don Canal, and a fifty per cent increase in the number of students. Reuter.

ANGLO-SOVIET TRADE

Good Progress Made In Negotiations

London, December 30. The Anglo-Soviet negotiations in London during the recent months, for the conclusion of a new temporary trade agreement, have made good progress.

While the points at issue still outstanding are serious, they have been considerably narrowed. They are now under discussion in Moscow between Lord Clifton, the British Ambassador, and M. Maxim Litvinoff, Soviet Commissar for Foreign Affairs, who has recently returned from visits to the United States and Italy.—British Wireless Service.

It is stated on good authority a special delegation, probably headed by Foreign Minister Romero, will shortly leave for Rome in order to negotiate a new agreement regulating the relations between Spain and the Vatican. ### RUSSO-GERMAN RELATIONS

Litvinoff's Speech Criticised

[Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright.)]

Berlin, Dec. 30. A semi-official commentary on Litvinoff's speech concerning Russo-German relations warmly greets the Soviet Foreign Commissary's wish for the best possible understanding between the two nations but finds it difficult to reconcile the tenor of Litvinoff's address with its generous conclusions.

The statement says, "It must evoke astonishment that the Russian Commissary in a speech of such high political importance should refer to information on whose trustworthiness he himself casts reflections, bringing up incidents which have been already officially disproved, while placing small value on the utterances made by representatives of the German Government regarding Russo-German relations. The Soviet Government with which Germany enjoyed close political-economic relations for the past decade, if acting in the spirit shown by the concluding lines of Litvinoff's speech, would have been under the obligation to make as sharp a distinction between the official announcements of the German Government and irresponsible words of private persons as the Soviet have asked from their own foreign critics since the formation of Soviet-Russia. Commissary Litvinoff says that the Soviet Union does not meddle in domestic policies of Germany, therefore it is all the harder to understand how he characterizes the National-Socialist party's combatting of Communism inside Germany as a propagation of the extreme sort of anti-Soviet ideas."—Transocean Kuo Min.

"TURN ON THE HEAT!"

Severe Cold In New York

New York, Dec. 30. New York City is shivering in the most intense cold since 1920, with the thermometer five degrees below zero.

The Hudson River is frozen over hard and the British steamer, "Ouse Bridge," is ice-bound at Poughkeepsie. Boston has broken all records for cold with the temperature degrees below zero. Railway traffic is seriously dislocated. Even the famous "Twentieth Century" Ltd. ran in half an hour late, which is an almost unheard-of happening.—Reuter.

IMPERIAL AIRWAYS LINER CRASH

Ten Occupants Killed: Mechanic Badly Burned

FOG THE CHIEF CAUSE OF THE DISASTER

[Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright.)]

Following the terrible French train disaster on Christmas Day, another tragedy though not on so large a scale but none the less distressing, is reported from Brussels, where an Imperial Airways liner crashed in a thick fog, resulting in the death of ten occupants.

Brussels, Dec. 30. A fully loaded passenger plane crashed to the ground like a flaming Roman candle at Ruyssedele Airfield, near Bruges, this morning leaving only blackened bodies of ten inmates, when a Cologne-Brussels-London airliner of the Imperial Airways pounded head on into the antenna mast in taking off. All eight passengers as well as the pilot and the radio operator were British. Three travellers had entered the plane in Cologne, five came aboard at Brussels.—Transocean Kuo Min.

Berlin, Dec. 30. Chancellor Adolph Hitler as well as Air Minister Hermann Goering expressed the sympathy of the German people to the British Nation on account of the terrible air disaster near Bruges.—Transocean Kuo Min.

PETROL TANK EXPLODES

Brussels, December 31. An Imperial Airways liner crashed near Bruges and as a result ten occupants were killed.—Reuter.

Ruyssedele, December 31. How narrowly the occupants of the "Apollo" escaped incineration was revealed by wireless mechanics who were immediately rushed to the scene and began tearing away the fabric parts of the machine. One mechanic was clutching the arm of an imprisoned passenger when the petrol tank exploded and the "Apollo" burst into flames and the rescuers were forced to leap back. They could do no more than dress each others burns, and one mechanic was sent to hospital with a badly burned face. It appears that fog was the chief cause of the disaster. The pilot failed to see the lights always burning at the Eohlt Pylons Wireless Station as the fogbank was only three hundred feet above ground and the pilot must have endeavored to keep under it. It is estimated that the "Apollo" hit the Pylon Light at a hundred miles an hour and then was entangled in the aerial, putting the long wave transmission out of action.—Reuter.

BRITISH AEROPLANE INDUSTRY

Steady Increase In Business

[Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright.)]

London, Dec. 30. British as well as foreign air armaments were mentioned at the annual general meetings of two leading British airplane works, the Havilland Aircraft Company and the Fairey Aviation Company. The chairman of the Havilland Company stated that the demand from foreign governments for military planes is steadily increasing but that he was unable to say more. He could however inform his hearers that the Havilland works have been experimenting the last two months with a new type of bombing plane. The speaker hinted that these experiments have been carried out on behalf of the British Air Ministry. Similar experiments for the British Air Ministry were announced by the chairman of the Fairey Aviation works which are also working for the Belgian Government. It was mentioned that growing Belgian orders necessitated a considerable enlargement of the Fairey works.—Transocean Kuo Min.

JAPANESE AMBASSADOR IN MOTOR ACCIDENT

Car Skids On Ice-Covered Roads

[Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright.)]

Berlin, Dec. 30. The Japanese Ambassador Nagai and Counsellor Fujii suffered slight concussion when the motor-car in which they were travelling from Berlin to Potsdam skidded on the ice covered road and came to an abrupt halt against a tree. Passing motorists took the Ambassador and the Counsellor to the latter's home in Gruenewald suburb where physicians pronounced the injuries not to be of a serious nature. The Ambassador expects to be able to attend New Year's reception at the Reich's President's Palace on Monday.—Transocean Kuo Min.

CIVILIANS WIN LAI WAH CUP

Lincolns Beat East Lancs. In First League

ATHLETIC LOSE TO YOUNG INDIANS

The final of the Lai Wah Cup was won by the Civilians. The Royal Navy were unlucky in losing and at the end of ninety minutes play the teams should have been equal.

The Lincolns increased their lead at the head of the League table with a win over the East Lancshires on the Railway ground.

In Division II, the Navy fell away from the lead by losing to the Gunners by the odd goal.

South China and the Borderers were successful.

The Young Indians defeated the Athletic by 4 goals to 2.

In Division III, the Lincolns continue to win, and with the Borderers playing the University to a draw, the Lincolns have a commanding lead at the head of the table.

The following are the results:—

LAI WAH CUP FINAL

The final match in the Lai Wah Cup was played on the H.K. F. C. ground, the Civilians securing the Cup for the sixth time.

The attendance was rather poor seeing the issue at stake.

The final was brought forward owing to the early departure of the Navy on a Southern cruise.

Each side made one change in the team. The Civilians had Andy Duncan out in place of Robertson, who was on the injured list, whilst the Navy fielded Blair in place of Purkins, who is also on the injured list, having been hurt in the Charity game in mid-week.

There were several exciting minutes throughout the match, and fever heat reigned in the closing minutes when the Navy were fighting for the goal to make score five all. In the closing minutes McHardy saved the Civilians. Having been knocked out a few minutes previously, he managed to hold his charge safe from a severe bombardment from the Navy forwards.

The first goal of the match came as a surprise to those present and was due to a masterful piece of work by Howe, the Club centre-forward. Twisting his way through the defence and turning quickly with the ball at his toe, he slipped to E. Strange who was unmarked and Strange made no mistake, shooting into the net, well out of Linddington's reach.

Play was fast and both goals were visited in turn. B. Gosano made ground on the right and passing to Ward, the St. Joseph's player made no mistake shot into the net to put the Civilians two up. On the run of the play, the Navy were unlucky in being two goals down. Skinner, who had been very prominent in raids on the Civilians' citadel, got through and forced a corner. A scramble in Civilians area took place when the flag kick was taken and the ball went into the net direct from the kick to make the score two to one in favour of the Civilians.

The Civilians increased their lead through Howe, who snapped up a pass from Ward and shot well into the net. The Navy made a raid on the Civilians' citadel and Skinner sent in a shot that McHardy failed to hold and at the interval the scores were:—

Civilians 3, Royal Navy 2.

SECOND HALF

Resuming the Navy held the upper hand for a few minutes and had hard luck in not drawing level. Blackford got through and passed to E. Strange and midst cries of "Ernie" he shot hard at Linddington and the goalies failed to lead the ball in bounced into the net.

The Civilians increased their lead through Ward. Sending in a slow shot from twelve yards, much to the surprise of those present, Linddington made a very weak effort to clear and assisted the ball in the net to give the Civilians a five to two goals lead.

A penalty goal to the Navy lived things up. Skinner was entrusted with the kick and he made no mistake, hanging the ball into the net, giving McHardy no chance.

The Navy increased the pressure and Skinner scored a fine goal. Shooting well from twenty-five yards, the ball just went under the bar over McHardy's head. Having got to within fighting distance, the Navy stormed the Civilians' citadel and every knock seemed a success for them. The Civilians' defence held out bravely, saving brilliant on several occasions. A very good game was played and the Navy were not long in arrears for Woods turned up from a shot by Hamby and when the ball dropped it was well over the goal line to make the score one all.

DIVISION II.

R.A. V. R. NAVY

Turning out with ten men in their match with the Gunners on the military ground, the Navy were a goal down before their side was complete, the 11th player coming on just after the ball was kicked from the centre spot for the second time.

Edmunds went down the wing and centred, Hopkins met the ball close in and turned it into the net.

The Navy were not long in arrears for Woods turned up from a shot by Hamby and when the ball dropped it was well over the goal line to make the score one all.

NAVY GAIN FINE VICTORY

Ragged Rugger At Sookunpoo

A weakened army team suffered a seventeen to six defeat at the hands of the Navy at Sookunpoo ground on Saturday in a rugby game featured by spasmodic flashes of brilliant play and bad ball handling.

The game opened with the Navy on the offensive and during the first minutes of play they drove the Army back into their own territory and held them there. Suddenly the Sinclair Ford, Navy's star three-quarter secured the ball and began a run right through the opposing team, only to be robbed of a score by being forced up within inches of a touchdown. The Army gained the ball in the line out and advanced to their own twenty-five yard line where Navy once more gained possession and started a forward rush which ended with Hammett crossing the line for the initial try. Buckley failed to convert the kick.

With the score, Board reading three to nil in favour of the Sailors the Army fifteen dug in their cleats and began to work. They were soon well inside the Navy territory and then were awarded a penalty kick for offside. Lloyd made the most of the opportunity and sent the ball fairly between the uprights to tie the score. A few minutes later Navy were awarded a free kick from a similar position and Linton, retaliating by converting. The score now stood six to three with Navy in the lead. Shortly after this Army missed a wonderful opportunity to reach an even footing when Walker staged a brilliant forty-five yard run and passed to the Smith five yards in front of the Navy line. Smith caught the ball and passed wildly, necessitating a scrum.

As usual the Navy got the ball out of the scrum and began an advance and it was only a matter of minutes before Gaswood scored a clever broken field run to add three more points to his team's total. Linton hit the bar with the kick for extra points and the half ended with the score nine to three.

SECOND HALF

The second period was not long in progress before Sinclair Ford gained three more points for the Sailors by crossing the line after one of the nicest three-quarter runs of the whole game in which every man handled the ball. Buckley did not convert the kick. A few minutes later Sinclair Ford missed another glorious chance to score when he fumbled a pass within three yards of a touchdown.

New life seemed to come into the army fifteen and led by Simons, who played a fine game in the backfield, they smashed their way into the Navy twenty-five and then team's second score. Shortly after this Miers made a nice run to score for Navy and Linton converted the kick. The game ended with the score reading seventeen to six.

SUMMARY

Although Navy well deserved their win they also deserve a little criticism. Their backfield once they get the ball secured take a lot of stopping but usually before they get into action they make three or four knock ons. In other words, while their running, dodging and tackling is good, their handling is at times terrible. The Army yesterday, fumbled even worse than the Navy and their forwards did not bind nearly so well. The Navy scrum as is usually the case were on the ball all the time while just one or two of their opponents seemed to be bearing the brunt of their attack. Hewitt played his usual line game as Army scrum and he and Simons were the pick of the Navy standing out as the best three-quarter on the field.

Jake Selby, tricky little Club Captain handled the whistle and it was really a pleasure to see the way he ruled the game. A few more referees of the Selby type would do much to improve local rugger.

The teams were:—
Navy:—Lt. Buckley (Medway), Lt. St. Clair Ford (Medway), Lt. Slater (Eagle), Sub. Lt. Garwood (Kent), Lt. Campbell (Suffolk), Lt. Miers (Medway), Lt. Forbes (Medway), (Capt.) Comdr. Roome (Medway), Lt. Evans (Suffolk), Lt. Nixon (Suffolk), E. A. Hammett (Cumberland), Lt. Brown (H.M.S. Falmouth) and L. C. Pascoe (Berwick).

Around the Courts

DANGEROUS GOODS

Before Mr. Hamilton at the Central Magistracy on Saturday morning, two Chinese, So Fook and Chung Chuen, were charged with unlawful possession of 24 candles of dynamite.

It was stated by a European Sergeant that the dynamite was found hidden in the defendant's hut near the sea-shore at Shau-Kei-Wan.

The first defendant pleaded guilty, whereas the second denied the charge.

His Worship then imposed a fine of $25 on the first defendant and discharged the second with a caution.

HANDBAG SNATCHING

A Chinese named Wong Ting, described as an unemployed, appeared before Mr. Balfour at the Central Police Court on Saturday morning, charged with snatching a handbag from a Chinese lady named Lau Shui Hui in Queen's Road Central on Friday afternoon.

The accused pleaded guilty and was sentenced to six months' hard labour.

Inspector Andrew in prosecuting, told the Court that complainant was choosing goods in Tai Hing, a Chinese goldsmith's shop in Queen's Road Central, she laid her handbag on the counter. A shop told saw the defendant come up from behind and snatch the bag. Seeing the sudden attack, the complainant raised an alarm and the defendant was arrested.

The accused was also discovered to have been previously convicted.

UNLAWFUL BOARDING OF SHIP

Three Chinese, Chun Kwan,
Wong Sze Shui and Chan Lau Suk, all described as unemployed, appeared before Commander Hoi at the Marine Court on Saturday morning, charged with unlawfully boarding the "S.S. Hong Kong" last Friday without the permission of the master or the officer-in-charge of the ship.

All the defendants pleaded guilty, and were each fined $10 or one week's hard labour in default.

TOM COBLEY WINS ST. JOHN'S CUP

New Year's Eve Meeting At Fanling

CASH SWEEP WINNER GETS $30,537

(BY "MORNING DEW")

There was quite a good attendance at the Kwant Race Course, yesterday, when the Fanling Hunt and Race Club held their New Year's Eve Race Meeting.
His Excellency the Governor and Lady Peel were seen amongst the gathering, and others present included H. E.
Major General O. C. Borrett and Mrs. Borrett, the Hon. Mr. C. G.
Alabaster, the Hon. Mr. C. Gordon Mackie and Mrs. Mackie, the Hon. Mr. J. J. Paterson, Mr. T. E. Pearce, Mr. H. H.
Priestley, Mr. A. L. Shields, Mr. D. J. Lewis, and Mr. H. B.
L. Dowbiggin.

The principal attraction of the afternoon was the big sweep conducted on the St. John's Cup, the last race of the day. The race fell to Tom Cobley, and the holder of the ticket No. 10,687, is richer by $30,000 as a result of this pony's success. Full particulars of the draw will be found under the Cash Sweep figures.

Honours were evenly divided, and the day was devoid of accidents.

POTIS WIN FIRST RACE ON MOUCHE

Mouche proved too good for the rest of the entries in the first race, and led from start to finish, running comfortably all the way.
White Stars managed to stay second all the way round except for a while when Firefly passed him half a mile from home. The latter however was not in the picture in the run home. Britannic Hall displacing him for third place.
Barrow fell at the third hurdle, riding Jack O'Lantern.

FAVOURITE BEATEN
The favourite for the second race, Donnabella, is beaten out of a place, Mr. H. E. Bringing in the Gadwall to win by a neck from Burgomaster, ridden by Mr. J.
Jordan. The latter took the lead from the beginning of the dip and was not caught by the ultimate winner until the last hurdle was negotiated. Festival Eve was well ridden to get third place, stalling off a challenge from Donnabella.

MARQUIS HALL WINS
Riding Marquis Hall in the mile and a half steeplechase, Mr. W. T.
Stanton won from a field of five after leading all the way round.
Toby got rid of his jockey at the first fence. There was nothing in the race as Marquis Hall led by a comfortable distance from Duke of Milan with No Fear and San Francisco next, a good distance behind. The leader tried rapidly in the straight, but stayed on long enough to win by a length and half.

THE TALLY HO HURDLE RACE
Movanager had things all his own way in the fourth race, a hurdle event over a mile and a half. Duncie, the favourite ran in the middle of the field all the way and only just scrambled into a place. Zephyr put up a good race in the home straight and took second place.

ST. JOHN'S CUP.
The St. John's Cup drew 20 starters, but the public could not follow much of the two miles race. There were several spills, but happily no one was seriously injured. The race went to Tom Cobley who won from Red Leaves
Celerity was third.

"WHO MADE CHAOS?"

Sir Josiah Stamp And The Financier

Sir Josiah Stamp, director of the Bank of England and president of the L.M.S. Railway, speaking to members of the Foreign Press Association at a luncheon at the Savoy Hotel yesterday, said: "To be asked to talk on the monetary question is like being asked to shake hands with an octopus. At which end of the octopus shall we start?"

He then told the story of three professional men, a doctor, an engineer, and a financier, who were debating which of them belonged to the most honourable and ancient profession.

The doctor said: "Mine, easily. Don't you remember that in the beginning Eve was made out of a rib in Adam's side? Well, there's a surgical operation for you."

But the engineer said: "Yes, but before that happened don't you know the whole world was made out of chaos in six days. Now, there's an engineering feat for you."

"Ah!" said the financier, "but who made chaos?"
